Exactech to Present Growth Strategies at Canaccord
Adams Musculoskeletal Conference in Conjunction With AAOS Orthopaedic Meeting

GAINESVILLE, Fla. – February 23, 2009 -- Exactech, Inc. (Nasdaq: EXAC), a developer and producer of bone and joint restoration products for hip, knee, shoulder, spine and biologic materials, today announced its schedule of future events.

Exactech will present to investment community analysts on February 24 at the Canaccord Adams Musculoskeletal Conference to be held at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Exactech President David Petty will deliver his presentation at 3:00 p.m. PST, which will also be available via audio webcast at <http://www.newswire.ca/en/webcast/viewEvent.cgi?eventID=2550240>.

The company will then host financial analyst meetings in conjunction with the company's exhibit for surgeons during the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons (AAOS) Annual Meeting in Las Vegas February 25 – 27, 2009.

During the AAOS annual meeting, Exactech will demonstrate its latest products to the orthopaedic surgical community. Financial analysts are also invited to the company's exhibit to view prosthetic products and meet with company representatives.

Exactech will be highlighting its new Novation® Element™ tapered-wedge hip stem system. The geometry of this stem facilitates insertion using traditional and smaller incisions with varied surgical approaches, and the system offers specialized instrumentation to specifically support the anterior approach to the hip.

Also to be featured will be the Optetrak® CR Slope™, a patent-pending design that enables surgeons to plan and perform PCL-retaining total knee arthroplasty based on maintaining the anatomical integrity of the posterior cruciate ligament.

Surgeons and other technical experts will be available to discuss design rationales and clinical outcomes associated with Exactech products.
